10 A. Several different applications are currently being used at Hydro to perform 11 portions of the functionality required, and in some cases nothing provides the 12 required functionality. This project will identify all applications currently in 13 use and perform a gap analysis, comparing the functionality of existing 14 applications with the requirements of Hydro's enhanced business process.
15 The goal is to ensure that the minimum number of applications is present in 16 future to perform the necessary functions.
